

Due to IRS regulation governing Constructive Receipt, the December 1st payment will be the last payment received for the year. The January payment will not be received until after the end of December in order to comply with this rule.